this book written by the staff of the imf institute offers a series of workshops on kenya that are used as a case study in the institute s course on financial analysis and policy for officials of imf member countries the workshops combine theory and practice for a better understanding of the use of major financial policy instruments in the management of national economies with reportedly over usd50 billion lost annually through graft and illicit practices combating corruption in africa has been challenging however laws and policies at the continental regional and national levels have been promulgated and enacted by african leaders these initiatives have included the establishment of anti corruption agencies mandated to tackle graft at national level as well as coordinate bodies at regional and continental levels to ensure the harmonisation of normative standards and the adoption of best practices in the fight against corruption yet given the disparity between the apparent impunity enjoyed by public servants and the anti corruption rhetoric of governments in the region the effectiveness of these agencies is viewed with scepticism this continent wide study of anti corruption agencies aims to gauge their relevance and effectiveness by assessing their independence mandate available resources national ownership capacities and strategic positioning these surveys include evidence based recommendations calling for stronger more relevant and effective institutions that are directly aligned to regional and continental anti corruption frameworks such as the african union convention on preventing and combating corruption aucpcc which the three countries in this current report kenya tanzania and uganda have all ratified this book brings together a variety of innovative perspectives on the inclusion of gender in the governance of counter terrorism and violent extremism several global governance initiatives launched in recent years have explicitly sought to integrate concern for gender equality and gendered harms into efforts to counter terrorism and violent extremism ct cve as a result commitments to gender sensitivity and gender equality in international and regional ct cve initiatives in national action plans and at the level of civil society programming have become a common aspect of the multilevel governance of terrorism and violent extremism in light of these developments there is a need for more systematic analysis of how concerns about gender are being incorporated in the governance of counter terrorism and violent extremism and how it has affected gendered practices and power relations in counterterrorism policy making and implementation ranging from the processes of global and regional integration of gender into the governance of terrorism via the impact of the shift on government responses to the return of foreign fighters to state and civil society led cve programming and academic discussions the essays engage with the origins and dynamics behind recent shifts which bring gender to the forefront of the governance of terrorism this book will be of great value to researchers and scholars interested in gender governance and terrorism the chapters in this book were originally published in critical studies on terrorism
