if you were to imagine what a book celebrating 140 years of financial knowledge might contain you could not come up with a better selection than this as well as a historic sweep from no tech to fintech the decline of trust and the rise of competition today s hot subjects are addressed including sustainable investing cultural diversity and digital identity the cradle to grave nature of the industry is captured in pieces about financial education and pensions and it's well written setting the scene nicely for the next era. Jane Fuller fellow of the Society of Investment Professionals financial services are undergoing rapid and potentially dramatic change. What will happen in payments in sustainable finance and in fintech? How can the industry boost financial inclusion and ensure that its workforce has the skills it needs to meet regulatory requirements and to compete with new entrants? Can trade finance rise to the challenge of underpinning global trade for all and help the developing world avoid financial abandonment? What do financial services need to do to protect our digital identities? Banking on Change provides insights by experts and influencers from across the financial services industry on these and other questions published to mark the 140th anniversary of the London Institute of Banking Finance this book is intended to be of lasting value to both students and professionals.

This volume presents a panoramic picture of the many national and international trends and developments factors customs and events that have characterised banking in the Mediterranean area over the past two centuries. During this period banking in the Mediterranean evolved distinct characteristics several going well beyond the restricted realities of colonial relations. The range of issues covered by the book is extensive and includes both national banking evolution and pan regional topics. The chapters touch upon various aspects of Iberian, Italian, French, Greek, Maltese, Moroccan and Ottoman banking history focusing particularly on issues relating to central banking, numismatics, archival recording and pan-Mediterranean economic dynamics. The history of certain specific institutions is also considered including the Imperial Ottoman Bank, the Ionian Bank, the Banque d'Etat du Maroc and others bringing together papers by leading banking and finance historians which were first presented at the European Association for Banking History conference held in Malta in June 2007. This volume offers an invaluable insight towards a wider and more detailed understanding of the roles of banking and finance in Mediterranean economic history seen in a context of what has hitherto been something of a historical vacuum in terms of the coverage of much writing on European banking and financial history and the importance given to the Mediterranean region's banking history in its own right. This is an innovative book that both contributes towards our knowledge the subject and establishes a pattern for further work in this important area of european economic history this book is intended to lay out in a clear and intuitive as well as comprehensive way what we know or think we know about mergers and acquisitions in the financial services sector it evaluates their underlying drivers factual evidence as to whether or not the basic economic concepts and strategic precepts are correct it looks closely at the managerial dimensions in terms of the efficacy of merger implementation notably the merger integration process the focus is on enhancing shareholder value creation and the execution of strategies for the successful management of mergers it also has a strong public policy component in this special industry where successes can pay dividends and failures can cause serious problems that reach well beyond the financial services industry itself the financial services sector is about halfway through one of the most dramatic periods of restructuring ever undergone by a major global industry the impact of the restructuring has carried well beyond shareholders of the firms and involved into the domain of regulation and public policy as well as global competitive performance and economic growth financial services are a center of gravity of economic restructuring activity manda transactions in the financial sector comprise a surprisingly large share of the value of merger activity worldwide including only deals valued in excess of 100 million during the period 1985 2000 there were approximately 233 700 manda transactions worldwide in all industries for a total volume of 15 8 trillion of this total there were 166 200 mergers in the financial services industry 49 7 valued at 8 5 trillion 54 in all of restructuring frenzy the financial sector has probably had far more than its share of strategic transactions that have failed or performed far below potential because of mistakes in basic strategy or mistakes in post merger integration it has also had its share of rousing successes this book considers the key managerial issues focusing on manda transactions as a key tool of business strategy doing the right thing to augment shareholder value but in addition the degree of integration required and the historic development of integration capabilities on the part of the acquiring firm disruptions in human resources and firm leadership cultural issues timeliness of decision making and interface management have co equal importance doing it right new banking and investment business models to navigate the post financial crisis environment the financial crisis of 2007 2008 has discredited business models in the banking and fund management industries in the future of finance moorad choudhry and gino landuyt argue that banks must realign their business models implying a lower return on equity diversifying their funding sources and increasing liquidity reserves on the investment side the authors discuss how diversification did not reduce risk but rather amplified it and failed to stabilize returns the authors conclude that the clear lesson from the crisis is to know one s risk a lesson that is best served by concentrating on assets and sectors that you understand examines the weaknesses in the business models of many institutions as well as the theoretical foundation for professionals in the field of finance identifies the shortcomings of modern portfolio theory addresses how investment managers can find new strategies for creating alpha and why they need to re vamp their fee structures filled with in depth insights and practical advice the future of finance will provide bankers and investment managers with a guide to realigning their businesses in order to prosper in the post crisis financial markets
