how does contemporary literature contend with the power and responsibility of authorship particularly when considering marginalized groups how have the works of multiethnic authors challenged the notion that writing and authorship are neutral or universal in novel subjects leah milne offers a new way to look at multicultural literature by focusing on scenes of writing in contemporary works by authors with marginalized identities these scenes she argues establish authorship as a form of radical self care a term we owe to audre lorde who defines self care as self preservation and an act of political warfare in engaging in this battle the works discussed in this study confront limitations on ethnicity and nationality wrought by the institutionalization of multiculturalism they also focus on identities whose mere presence on the cultural landscape is often perceived as vindictive or willful analyzing recent texts by carmen maria machado louise erdrich ruth ozeki toni morrison and more milne connects works across cultures and nationalities in search of reasons for this recent trend of depicting writers as characters in multicultural texts her exploration uncovers fiction that embrace unacceptable or marginalized modes of storytelling such as plagiarism historical revisions jokes and lies as well as inauthentic invisible and unexceptional subjects these works ultimately reveal a shared goal of expanding the borders of belonging in ethnic and cultural groups and thus add to the ever evolving conversations surrounding both multicultural literature and self care gerhard mercator 1512 1594 was the most important cartographer and globemaker of the 16th century he is particularly remembered for his publication atlas sive cosmographicae meditationes de fabrica mundi et fabricati figura 1595 and for his specific cylindrical map projection 1569 which is still used widely today this book brings together the latest research on mercator with a view to his sources and his relationships with other scientific disciplines and cartographers of his time as well as his role in the wider worlds of renaissance cartography and humanism ever since the second world war and the holocaust historians psychologists and theologians alike have attempted to explain how a single personality could bring about some of the greatest horrors of the modern era ron rosenbaum s explaining hitler investigates the meanings and motivations people have attached to hitler and his disturbing policies and whether or not he believed his own doctrines and explores the continuing fascination with the nature of evil the book also documents the story of the earliest critic of hitler the munich post in the 1920s and 1930s and its violent demise first published in 1998 and using interviews of leading experts such as hugh trevor roper alan bullock and daniel goldhagen and discussing the work of many more exploring hitler is a balanced overview of a dark subject thirteen women at the forefront of philosophy locate new feminist points of view within the discipline by rigorously engaging works of contemporary french philosophy in so doing they both transform the standard practices of the field and carve out new territory these writers amplify the work of feminist philosophers such as simone de beauvoir luce irigaray and sarah kofman in ways that are both stylistically and substantively creative they also appropriate for radical feminist use the works of male philosophers such as michel foucault gilles deleuze maurice merleau ponty and jean paul sartre the essays illustrate the manner in which feminist philosophers bypass traditional methodology in favor of a disciplinary freedom characterized by fluid methodologies best exemplified in beauvoir s work and by the employment of imaginative forms including the autobiographical and the poetic the modes of inquiry used here range variously from psychoanalysis and existentialism to deconstruction post structuralism and newly resurgent phenomenology this volume also contains a comprehensive bibliography of feminist thinkers who are enacting french philosophy in english german and french the world is drowning in a shoreless and bottomless ocean of beliefs almost every conceivable theological philosophical ideological twist and turn is in play truth has become a rare treasure never before have so many people been so informed and so detached the good news is that you can know for sure and you can make a difference the purpose of the book is to introduce a biblically solid and objective way of thinking that gives the christian a proper foundation and advantage for managing encounters with friends family work and classroom thinking like a christian and thinking and acting like jesus should be the norm each chapter is a different approach to some older and newer methods the truth is that all of reality proves the existence of the triune creator god and without him nothing makes sense reality either rests on the absolute god or subjective relativism there is no neutrality as much as some try to pretend all ground is common but none is neutral today the battle lines could scarcely be clearer america is at a tipping point where the roller coaster goes is in the hands of the church of the lord jesus christ this book is my attempt to make a difference in a world that is increasingly chaotic peace and blessings to you what is myth why do myths exist what do myths do where are myths going this reader is organized into 4 parts which explore these questions drawing on over 10 years of experience teaching myth in religious studies and anthropology departments in the uk usa and continental europe the editors have brought together key works in the theory of myth key features include a general introduction to the reader that outlines a comparative and interpretative framework an introduction contextualizing each part and sub section an introduction to each reading by the editors a companion website that provides discussion questions and further reading suggestions including primary sources from functionalism to feminism nationalism to globalization and psychoanalysis to spatial analysis this reader covers the classic and contemporary theories and approaches needed to understand what myth is why myths exist what they do and what the future holds for them
