The origins

- ☐ Election assistance activities have been part of the external relations' agenda of several established democracies since the end of World War II
- ☐ With the end of the Cold War the support for the establishment of functioning and transparent governance institutions was acknowledged as a priority for the creation of more stable, peaceful and economically sustainable democracies
- ☐ Apart from few exceptions related to the role covered by the OSCE in Eastern Europe, there can be singled out three main actors in the provision of election assistance: the UN, the EC and the US.
- ☐ The initial commitment from all of them was related to electoral observation or the provision of logistical support

and Democratic Governance in Africa

The UN

- ❑ First involvement in electoral activities, with the Trusteeship Council. Observation or supervision of more than 30 plebiscites and referenda around the world
- ❑ Between the end of 1980s' and the early 1990s' the UN deployed major electoral missions of three kinds:
 - 1) 1989 - UNTAG Namibia – Supervision and Control
 - 2) 1993 – UNTAC Cambodia– Organization and conduct of elect
 - 3) 1994 - ONUSAL El Salvador – Verification
- ❑ GA Resolution 46/137 “Enhancing the Principle of Periodic and Genuine Elections”

The EU

- ☐ First serious engagement were the first multiparty elections in Russia, 1993 and first multiracial elections in South Africa, 1994.
- ☐ “Ad hoc” support remained the rule until 2000. COM 191/200 was the watershed, financed through EDF.
- ☐ Definition and distinction of complementary roles between assistance and observation
- ☐ New Approach from 2006 with the publication of the EC Methodological Guide
- ☐ Leading actor in the provision of electoral support

and Democratic Governance in Africa

The US

- ☐ Part of the external relations' agenda of several established democracies since the end of World War II
- ☐ Reagan and Carter administration made democracy promotion pivotal for the US foreign policy (USAID, State Dep. NED)
- ☐ Assistance initially focused on observation and party assistance (NDI, IRI, CC)
- ☐ 1987 IFES was established as the International Foundation for Election Systems
- ☐ Characterised by an overall division of tasks between the various organizations

Electoral Assistance

- ❑ Electoral Assistance is the legal, technical and logistic support provided to electoral laws, processes and institutions
- ❑ By “Effective Electoral Assistance” we mean all the initiatives and activities that are intended to improve the quality and impact of electoral assistance to partner country electoral institutions
- ❑ Part of the wider democratic development of the partner country, in accordance with the five key principles of “ownership, alignment, harmonisation, managing for results, and mutual accountability” that inform the 2005 Paris Declaration on Aid Effectiveness
- ❑ Management of all the complex set of interactions among the Government, Electoral Management Body (EMB), International Organizations, Political Parties, CSOs, Services Providers and Media

Election Assistance VS Electoral Assistance

- ☐ Election assistance is the support for the single electoral event, whilst electoral assistance is the support for the whole process
- ☐ Post electoral and inter-election periods are as crucial as the build up to the elections themselves
- ☐ It requires regular inter-institutional contact and support activities before, during and after election periods
- ☐ It should be based on the lessons learned and inter-institutional memory aiming at improved electoral processes in beneficiary countries, taking stock of all the steps of the electoral cycle

The paradigm shift

- ❑ EC, UNDP and International IDEA at the forefront of a new approach in electoral assistance. Main triggers:
 - ❑ 2000 UNDP 10 years evaluation
 - ❑ Accrued EC-UNDP Collaboration on Electoral Assistance (2004, DRC)
 - ❑ Paris Declaration 2005
 - ❑ EC and IDEA joining forces in 2005 to analyse electoral assistance processes across the board and develop new training tools, first training for EC officials in 2005
- ❑ The Manila UNDP 2004, Brussels EC 2004 and 2006 Ottawa CIDA-IDEA Conferences: shift from event-driven support to process and demand-driven
- ❑ EC UNDP IDEA Conceptualization of the electoral cycle
- ❑ Establishment of EC-UNDP Joint Task Force
- ❑ EC-UNDP-IDEA Joint Training on Effective Electoral Assistance
- ❑ Global Training Platform on Electoral Assistance

The UN and the EU

- ❑ The EU and the UN are natural partners. They are united by the core values laid out in the 1945 Charter of the UN, and the 1948 Universal Declaration of Human Rights.
- ❑ Member States and the EC are the largest contributors to the UN system. A total of 1.3 billion euros was approved by the EC to be channelled to the UN in 2006.
- ❑ 2001 EC's communication: "Building an effective partnership with the UN", and 2003 EC's Communication: "EU-UN relations: The choice of multilateralism".
- ❑ To facilitate programmatic cooperation between the EC and the UN, an updated Financial and Administrative Framework Agreement (FAFA) was agreed in 2003.

The UN and the EU

- ☐ The FAFA agreement provides a single shared legal, financial and administrative framework for all programmatic cooperation between the EC and the UN.
- ☐ FAFA has made cooperation more efficient, ensuring faster start-up of activities and ensuring administrative consistency across operations.
- ☐ In June 2004, the UNDP and the EC entered into a Strategic Partnership Agreement (SPA) through the signature of a MoU to set out and better define the relational focus between the two institutions.
- ☐ The MoU focuses on governance (including elections, parliament and governance indicators), conflict prevention and post conflict reconstruction

The EC-UNDP partnership in electoral assistance is unique for its scope, for its achievements and ambitions. It builds on a history of sector experience, specific attention to the lessons learned in previous projects and a mutual understanding of each other's approaches, roles and capacities.

The partnership is proving to be of increasing value to electoral assistance operations to the beneficiary countries, as it allows to rationalize interventions in the area and leads to better and timelier formulation, implementation and monitoring of projects, and is in line with the concepts of enhanced donor coordination from the March 2005 Paris Declaration on Aid Effectiveness. The resulting projects are consequently more effective, sustainable and in harmony with overall EU and UN objectives.

The EC and UNDP have been collaborating in the field of electoral assistance since 1997 but it is since 2004, with the implementation of the project in support of the electoral processes in the Democratic Republic of Congo that the collaboration was strongly intensified, leading to the signature, in 2006, of the "Operational Guidelines for the Implementation of Electoral Assistance Programmes and Projects".

The EC-UNDP partnership in electoral assistance relies heavily on the strong cooperation between services at the level of headquarters for the quality support mechanisms available. These can include, through a Joint Task Force, formulation and monitoring missions, support for the selection of experts and procurement of election material, joint trainings, development of guidelines, gathering of lessons learned and participation to specialized electoral networks.
