The Electoral Cycle

Electoral Cycle Approach

Is...

- ✓ Focused on the long term
- ✓ About developing capacities
- ✓ A way to engage with a wide variety of stakeholders
- ✓ A way to promote more exchanges, networking and south-south cooperation

Electoral Cycle Approach

Is not...

- ✓ A replacement of elections or indication that election events are unimportant
- ✓ A means to provide quick support before an election
- ✓ An excuse to provide indefinite support to electoral processes

Round Table on International Electoral Support

The first Round Table on International Electoral Support was organized on 1st March 2010 hosted by the OECD-DAC Governance Network (GOVNET)

DAC NETWORK ON GOVERNANCE (GOVNET)

Round Table on International Electoral Support

1

Share experiences/understandings on the current state of implementation of best practices in electoral support

2

Discuss and develop strategic principles on best practices for electoral support

3

Discuss topical issues – thinking politically/realistically about elections in fragile states, holistic approaches, women participation etc.

Draft Principles

- ✓ Take the local context seriously through careful, comprehensive assessments.
- ✓ Be alert to electoral risk. Elections assistance providers must respond to the recent rise in electoral and post-electoral violence in developing countries by giving greater attention to electoral risk and long-term causes of political violence that could ignite in election processes. These concerns should be reflected in the design and implementation of elections assistance interventions.
- ✓ Don't misuse electoral aid and promote transparency. Elections assistance should be employed based on the highest standards of impartiality and only to promote free and fair elections, not to advance other donor policy goals, such as burnishing the legitimacy of favored partner governments or building friendly relationships with governments. to meet the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs).
- ✓ Ground electoral assistance in complementary diplomatic policies. Elections assistance should be grounded in complementary diplomatic policies that seek to nurture or reinforce the commitment on the part of partner governments to follow accepted electoral norms.

Draft Principles

- ✓ Recognize the role of regional organizations. Elections assistance providers should take full account of the valuable role that regional organizations can play both in election monitoring and election assistance and seek the greatest possible complementarity with such organizations.
- ✓ Embrace a full concept of ownership. Aid to strengthen an electoral process should be owned not only by the relevant partner government but by the broader political society in question. Elections assistance providers should embrace an interpretation of local ownership that takes account of this political imperative.
- ✓ Build on donor coordination. Elections assistance providers should build on the progress they have made in creating cooperative mechanisms for elections assistance by assessing the record of such mechanisms and seeking ways to broaden and deepen communication, cooperation, and coordination among all relevant aid providers, including around joint funding mechanisms
- ✓ Be as comprehensive as possible. Designing elections assistance to be comprehensive horizontally across the many domestic institutions and sectors that are involved in an electoral process will ensure better synergies and overall coherence. Elections assistance and observation should be well coordinated, as observation plays a key role in effective electoral support.

Draft Principles

- ✓ Think and act across the electoral cycle. Elections assistance should be designed, planned, and implemented in a long-term fashion across the full length of electoral cycle and if possible across multiple cycles, avoiding the common tendency to focus primarily on activities relating to elections day. Donor support should encourage sustainability to ensure that local capacity is built as quickly as reasonably possible.
- ✓ Push for integration. Elections assistance should be actively integrated into the wider domain of democracy support, especially assistance for political party development, legislative strengthening, media assistance, and civic education programs.
- ✓ Emphasize citizens' understanding and engagement. Efforts to help citizens understand the utility and significance of elections as one part of a broader set of accountability mechanisms should be an integral element of elections assistance. Experience show that it is important to support consultative approaches to help election stakeholders to be jointly responsible and to build their confidence, and that of the wider public, in election management bodies and other institutions involved.

Draft Principles

- ✓ Add the local to the national. Aid providers should complement their traditional focus on national elections with greater attention to strengthening local elections.
- ✓ Make the connection with accountability. Elections assistance providers should actively connect their activities with the wider set of donor programs supporting accountable governance at all levels.
- ✓ Don't neglect gender. Although progress has been made to widen and deepen the role of women in politics in many developing countries, elections assistance providers should do more to incorporate a full gender dimension in elections assistance, especially concerning candidate selection and voter participation.
- ✓ Respond more consistently to flawed elections. Donor governments committed to advancing free and fair elections should strive toward greater normative consistency in responding to flawed elections.
- ✓ Keep learning about impact, and act on it. Building on the important learning efforts undertaken in recent years, elections assistance providers should carry out deep-reaching evaluations of the impact of elections assistance in varied contexts and incorporate the learning from those evaluations into assistance practice.
